

Nandini Ghosh is Faculty at the Institute of Development Studies Kolkata. Her areas of interest are qualitative research methodology, sociology of gender, marginalisation, social exclusion and social movements. She has published a monograph Impaired Bodies Gendered Lives: Everyday Realities of Disabled Women (Primus Books 2016) and co-authored a book on domestic violence titled The Violent Domestic: Law, its Practice, and Strategies of Survival. She has edited a volume titled Interrogating Disability in India: Theory and Practice (Springer 2016). She has co-edited two books, Pratyaha Everyday Lifeworlds: Dilemmas, Contestations and Negotiations (Primus 2015) and Caste and Gender in Contemporary India: Power, Privilege and Politics (Routledge 2018). She has published widely on issues around gender, disability, law and politics in well-known peer reviewed journals.