

Mini Sukumar teaches Women's Studies at the Department Women's Studies at the University of Calicut, Kerala. She has been actively involved in the women's movement in Kerala from the early 1990s, and is connected to "Sthree Padana Kendram." She oversaw the state program for the Kerala Mahila Samakhya Society, a nationwide initiative for women's empowerment. She served as the former General Secretary at the Indian Association for Women's Studies (IAWS). A member of the Kerala government's Department of Women & Child Development's Gender Park Governing Body, she is also one of the founding members of the feminist publishing company Women's Imprint.